You must apply for an AHRC studentship by the January deadline used by your programme of study. Late applications will not be accepted. You will not be considered for an AHRC studentship if you do not complete this section.

Please read the guidance notes for AHRC studentships at the University of Oxford at:

www.humanities.ox.ac.uk/graduate_study/ahrc

Please tick to apply for an AHRC studentship:

Please tick to confirm you have read the guidance notes and established that you are eligible for an AHRC studentship:

Section M: University of Oxford Scholarships

In this section you can apply for scholarships administered centrally by the University. However, additional funding opportunities may be available through colleges, departments/divisions, and external funding bodies. You must read the relevant online scholarship profile (available at: www.ox.ac.uk/feesandfunding) for full details and to check your eligibility before completing this section. We will also use the information you provided earlier in your application to help determine your eligibility for these scholarships.

To apply, please tick the box(es) below next to the scholarship(s) that you wish to be considered for. Where a scholarship is marked with a *, you also need to supply additional supporting material with this application. If you do not submit the required supporting material, or tick the relevant box, by the deadline, you will not be considered for the scholarship. For further details of supporting materials required, see the relevant online scholarship profile.

You must apply for these scholarships by the January deadline used by your programme of study. Late applications will not be accepted.

The Oxford Funding Search, available at www.admissions.ox.ac.uk/fundingsearch, allows you to search for college, departmental/divisional and centrally-managed funding opportunities.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Clarendon Fund

Around half of all Clarendon Scholarships are linked to a specific college or to a partner organisation. If you are awarded a Clarendon Scholarship, we may move your application to a college offering a Clarendon-College scholarship, even if this is not your preferred college. There is no separate application process for Clarendon-College or Clarendon-Partnership Scholarships: all candidates who are awarded a Clarendon Scholarship are automatically considered. See www.clarendon.ox.ac.uk for full details.

If you do not wish to have your college preference changed to take up a funding offer, please tick this box:

Section N: Supporting Materials Checklist

Supporting materials are required with all applications.

Check the Application Guide (available at www.ox.ac.uk/graduate/apply) very carefully to ensure that you understand which supplementary materials must accompany your application. You must send all supporting materials by the deadline for your programme. Any delay in sending the correct materials to the Graduate Admissions Office will most probably result in your application not being considered.

If you encounter difficulty in gathering the materials in time for the deadline, please contact the Graduate Admissions Office for advice. We may be able to suggest ways to help you meet our requirements, but only if you contact us well in advance of the application deadline.

We will send the postcard back to you as soon as we have received and opened your application package. Please note however that this is not a confirmation that your application is complete or that it has arrived on time.

Section Q: Declaration

Once you have completed the above, please read the declaration below and sign to indicate you agree with its terms:

I consent to the collection and processing of relevant personal data by the University, colleges and funding bodies, including those that are overseas, as applicable, subject to the provisions of the Data Protection Act (1998). I understand that the information provided on this form will be held and used for the purpose of processing my application for study, for student administration and, where relevant, for funding purposes.

I am aware that the University of Oxford and its colleges will not share this information with a third party unless I have given my permission in Section E (above); or unless I apply for funding through the University, in which case it will be shared only with third parties relevant to that funding application.

The University uses plagiarism detection systems to assist academic staff in helping you to learn to avoid plagiarism in your work; and in helping to detect plagiarism in assessed work submitted by you. In order for the University to use such systems, your work and your personal data relating to you (normally name, email address, course details and institution) may be submitted to the plagiarism detection service to which the University has subscribed. Your personal data may be stored electronically in a database and may be processed in countries not governed by EU data protection legislation. However, any company processing your data will be bound by the terms of its contract with the University to abide by the UK Data Protection Act 1998 at all times.

I confirm that the information I have given on this application form is, to the best of my knowledge, complete and accurate.
